Foreword

As we approach the end of four years of college experiences—some gay, some sad, but all meaningful—we prepare to enter a world that has been scarred and torn by the ravages of war. The progress of educating ourselves which we have begun here with the aid of our parents and instructors gives us courage and enthusiasm to look hopefully to the future for success in our various undertakings.

Lest we forget all of the interesting and varied experiences to which we have been exposed here at our beloved Alma Mater, we are here recording a few of them on the pages of this annual with the hope that they will not fade completely from our memories, and that they may serve as an inspiration to those who are yet to share in the wholesome and stimulating influence of Dear Ol' T. C.

Dedication

In appreciation for his loyalty and faithful devotion, we, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and forty-six, dedicate our RAM to GEORGE LEE JOHNSON, our class advisor, who by his untiring efforts has taught us among other things in the past three years the true meaning of unity, co-operation and determination.

To one who has proved himself a friend and a comrade, we bid farewell in dedicating this, THE RAM to him.

Class Song

(Tune: Beautiful Dreamer)

School days are ending, classes are o'er,
Dear friends and classmates, we'll greet you no more;
Four years we've spent here lab'ring each day—
The hours of study have now passed away.
Hard have we striven to do our part,
Though failure oft made the teardrops start.
Dear Alma Mater, our guide you'll be
In all we do we will e'er honor thee,
In all we do we will e'er honor thee.

Summer is coming, winter is gone,
Truths that you've taught us will e'er linger on—
Within thy walls great things we have planned,
Now we must go forth to fall or to stand.
With you behind us we'll never fail;
You will remind us that night will prevail.
Our future holds for us many years,
And we face them and conquer all fears,
And we will face them and conquer all fears.

Farewell, dear mother, farewell dear friend,
We hate to leave you, our days here to end.
Our voices tremble, footsteps are slow;
With tear-dimmed eyes from your portals we go.
Great sacrifices each year have been made
By parents who gave without any aid;
Now it's our task to strive and to live
Up to the ideals, T. C., that you give—
Dear Alma Mater, the ideals you give.
Dear Alma Mater, farewell, fare thee well.

Class Poem

The memory of you T. C.
Will e'er be fair and bright,
We ever will exalt thy name,
Follow thy beacon light.

With noble thoughts and noble words,
And noble actions, too—
We'll follow where thy standards lead,
And it will guide us through.

Now future builders we're to be—
We'll spread your teachings far;
We'll teach the young and we'll teach the old,
Nor any will debar.

With faith that's firm, with purpose high,
With hand that's sure and true
We'll take the clay and strive to build
A better world for you.

To Those Who Serve and Have Served

Foremost in our minds are those of our class group who have sacrificed years of their youth in defense of a cause that is dear and near to us all. We could never, in preparing to branch out upon new and challenging adventures of life, overlook the fact that we are diminished in number by those of our group who are members of the armed forces.

Yes, we are grateful, but as human beings oftentimes find themselves unable to express what they feel, so do we, the members of the senior class, at a time like this realize that words can in no measure tell what we feel, what we owe, and how much gratitude we have for those of the class of 1946 who serve and have served in the armed forces of the United States of America.

Class History

On September 22, 1942, a group of enthusiastic Freshmen appeared on the campus of the Winston-Salem Teachers College. What a place! Beautiful buildings and friendly faces we had never seen before! Everywhere we went these words were heard: "There goes a Freshman." Yes, we were Freshmen beginning a new start in a new place.

Our first day was a busy one. First came our placement tests. The next two days were used for grouping us into sections and for registration. This meant that we were to be divided. Nevertheless, our task began. We soon learned our way around, and through the activities of Orientation Week we learned much about our campus. We soon came to know each other and were able to choose our leaders. Carrie Richardson was our president that year. Our Advisor was Mr. George L. Johnson. There were many activities which were new to us and which have made Winston-Salem Teachers College an inspiration through the years. "Success" was our motto. It was exemplified in scholarship with such persons as: Sylvia Bell, Mary Beloe, Betty Carter, Gloria Diggs, Jacqueline Fitch, Carrie Richardson and others. In the field of dramatics such persons as Elizabeth Bailey, Gloria Diggs, Alice Goode, Ophelia Hairston, Claudia Harper, Willie Pamplin and Carrie Richardson were outstanding. In the field of music we contributed such persons as Sylvia Bell, Alice Beverly, Thelma Fentress, Geraldine Gordon, Virginia Harper, Christine Keeling, Savannah King, Modena McClee and Julius Smith.

As the year rapidly passed our aspirations rose. A record of the Freshmen Year would not be complete without mentioning the lovable time we had at the Freshman-Sophomore Ball.

In September, 1943, we were no longer Freshmen but Sophomores. We were now able to assist the incoming Freshmen. That year we met many new friends and we came to know some of them as well as we know our own classmates. Our goals for the year were set higher. Harry Wheeler was our president. We were still striving for and seeking for the best and wanting to help others at all times. We were represented in the Girl Scout Troop by the following persons: Margaret Edmunds, Celestine Haywood, Ruby Hunt, Otelia Spaulding and Hester Stephens. The Sigma Kappa Delta Club was organized this year by members of our class and was composed of the following members: Betty Carter, Gloria Diggs, Jacqueline Fitch, Claudia Harper, Sarah Harris, Helen Legrande, Maggie Scales, Louise Smith, Ida Wells and Ernestine Whitted. We were represented in the field of sports by Romeo Avery, James Brown, Clarence Cooper, William Davis, Carl Hargraves, Charles Hargrove, Ruby Hunt, Josephine Miller, Theodore Vines, Robert Vinson and Jessie Wiggs. This year was an enjoyable one, but, to our regret some of our classmates had to depart from us and become members of the Armed forces. The year ended with the following persons winning prizes that are awarded annually at commencement time: Gloria Diggs and Catherine Norcott.

Well, full of the school spirit and ready to go, we were now Juniors. We started the year with Louise Smith as class president. We were still striving for the best. A good start was made when one of our classmates was chosen as "Miss T. C." She was Miss Louise Smith. Being proud of this we continued to work hard. Not only were we interested in ourselves, but others as well. This was demonstrated when we surprised our President, Dr. F. L. Atkins, on his birthday. Miss Catherine Norcott contributed much to the success of this affair when she delivered an interesting address in honor of Dr. Atkins. Moving on with enthusiasm we were able to win second prize in the dramatic tournament with Louise Smith being chosen as the best actress. The play for the year, "Tell It to the Marines," included Ophelia Hairston, Vivian Hayes, Catherine Norcott and Carrie Richardson. The Cosmopolitan Club chose the following Juniors as members: Margaret Adams, Margaret Edmunds, Ruby Hunt, Carrie Richardson, and Hester Stephens. The School Social Committee included Clarence Cooper, William Davis and Louise Smith along with faculty members. How could we leave out the band with one of our own classmates elected as president? He was Leo Ballard. Others who were members of the band were: Betty Carter, Eliza Clark, Margaret Edmunds, Martha Jones and Hester Stephens. With the presentation of the opera, "The Bohemian Girl," we were really proud when Sylvia Bell played the leading role. The Yuletide season found us selling greetings in the Christmas post office, managed and owned by our class. Following the path of success, we found ourselves happy again when Margaret Adams represented our class as "May Queen." As in preceding years we conducted Chapel programs.

In September, 1945, we returned for the last time. Louise Smith was our president. The year was full of unforgettable experiences—chapel programs . . . vespers . . . Varsity Club with Milton Ingram as president . . . Cheering Squad with Carl Hargraves as president . . . Home-Coming Float . . . Dance . . . Christmas post office . . . Year Book . . . May Queen . . .

Before we realized it, we were taking our last exams. And the Commencement activities were upon us. They seemed to go by quickly and we had, at last, to take leave of each other. The scene being ended, and the curtain lowered, we make our exit, but we leave behind us our spirit, which we hope will ever be a part of our Alma Mater.

As We Go Forth

As we go forth from old T. C.,
A song of love we sing to thee—
And praises to the memory
Of days at Teachers College.
Your sons and daughters bring thee praise
Through knowledge which we here have gained.
Exultingly, we raise thy name,
O Winston-Salem Teachers College.

As we go forth from old T. C.,
Good leaders we will always be
And stand for Christianity—
As you have taught us, Teachers College.
In all we do we shall proclaim
To all the world thy teaching fame.
As we go forth we raise thy name,
O Winston-Salem Teachers College.

Home-Coming, '45

One of the most gala events of the season was held at the Winston-Salem Teachers College, October 26 and 27 when the Alumni group sponsored the Home-Coming game.

On October 26th from 11 o'clock to 3 a.m. the Teachers College Alumni dance was held in the College gymnasium. Many of the graduates were present and enjoyed meeting old friends and dancing to the music of Snookum Russell and his orchestra from Columbia, S. C.

The events of October 27 began with a large picturesque parade. Those groups taking part in the parade included the various local and college organizations. Prizes were awarded to the most colorful and appropriate floats. The first prize went to the Howard-Robinson Funeral Home and the second prize to the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Those receiving honorable mention were the Senior Class and the Dance group.

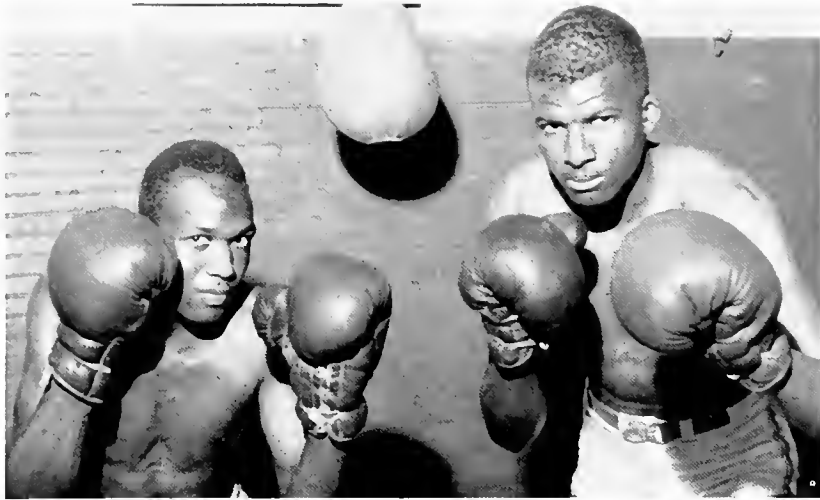

One of the most elaborate displays was the float on which Miss T. C. rode with her attendants. The float was covered with the school colors, red and white. Those on the float were: Miss Hazel Davis (Miss T. C.) of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Miss Gloria A. Hagon, Freshman of Wilson, N. C.; Miss Irma Wellman, Sophomore of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Miss Victoria Gwyn, Senior, Danville, Va.

After the parade the entire student body, and friends met in the Bowman Gray Memorial Stadium where they witnessed a thrilling game between the Virginia State Trojans and the T. C. Rams.

The climax of the day's activities was a "Homecoming" dance which was held in the College gymnasium. The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in a multi-colored scheme that was appropriate for the season of the year.

Class Will

WE, The May graduating class of the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-six, of the Winston-Salem Teachers College, in the City of Winston-Salem, County of Forsyth, and State of North Carolina, being of full age, average intelligence, and for four years members of this great institution, coming forth as the largest class that the Winston-Salem Teachers College has ever produced, do hereby authorize to be executed this our last will and testimony:

To the president of next year's senior class, Louise Smith wills a class as co-operative and well-spirited as the class of '46.

Lornetta Howell leaves to the matron of Pegram Hall much success and happiness with the future girls who will live in that dormitory.

Loretha Brooks wills to Ila Bryant her personality and the ability to have a successful senior year.

To Ora Thompson, Willie Pamplin leaves her glamour glasses.

Clella Johnson wishes to will her smiling face to Sarah Boyd.

Sylvia Bell bequeaths to Clara Thompson her musical laugh.

Vera Davis gives Terry B. Johnson a "Webster's International Dictionary" to look up all new words and to use them in the right place.

Alice Beverly wills to Annie McElvain her ability to make the honor roll during her methods and practice teaching courses.

To Savannah Walters, Margaret Edmonds wills her ability to smile.

Ophelia Hairston, Lillie Ballentine, Margaret Forbes, and Marjorie Marshall give their seats in the canteen to the "City Gang" of the Junior Class.

To Annie B. Gibbs, Hopie Tomlinson wills the ability to have a pleasing personality at all times.

Eva Lennon leaves two feet of her height to Mary Lou Edwards.

To Dora Dickerson, Ernestine Whitted leaves a book on "How to Grow Up."

Savannah King leaves her gallery of Musicians on her wall in room 213 to Edith Joyner.

To Harold Diggs, Hester Stephens wills his snare drum.

Vivian Davis leaves the new steps that she learned in "Modern Dancing" to Lorenza Hough.

To Alonzo Zuel and Annie B. Gibbs, Celestine Haywood gives her jovial moods.

Marienne Hooper leaves to Josephus Hope a new joke book.

To all of the organizations on the campus, Catherine Norcott wills best wishes.

Mildred Butler leaves her collection of 250 pieces of music and studio 6 to Ruby Bryson.

To Inez Broadnax and Henry Jones, Otelia Spaulding bequeaths her position in the library.

Claudia Harper wills to the Sigma Kappa Delta Club many prosperous years.

Mary Beloe leaves her manner of modesty to Betty Leach.

Birdie Williams wills her pleasing personality to Opella Shearian.

Maggie Scales wills her dignity to Lucille Joyner.

Carl Hargraves bequeaths his initiative to work with others to Leon Randolph.

Robert Vinson leaves his mathematical ability to Wiley Yourse.

Carrie Richardson leaves her place in the library to Doris Becton and wishes her much happiness as she works.

Finally, to President Atkins, faculty, and student body, the members of the graduating class of 1946 bequeath a prosperous and happy future.

We have hereby appointed Catherine Norcott as executive of this our last will and testament. In witness whereof we have set our seal, this twenty-eighth day of May, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-six.

Who's Who in 1956

CLASS PROPHECY

Last night while resting, many thoughts of the days spent at "T. C." crept into my mind. It had been such a long time since I had seen or heard from any of them. During this reminiscent period I had a dream that struck me in the most touching way. I could see the clearest picture of each of my classmates and old friends with whom I had roamed the campus. All this reminded me of the television receiver in the next room. I rushed into the room and turned to the broadcasts in different parts of the country. I saw all of my classmates as they participated in various activities.

The first person whom I saw as I looked through this projector was James Brown. He is still single after all these years. He is sitting by the fireplace trying to make up his mind to marry his school sweetheart, Modena McCle, who was also his college sweetheart.

As week-end guest of President Ingram, on the Morehouse College campus is Miss Carrie Richardson, who is the career woman of the day.

Martha Jones and William Phillips were the only ones in the class of '46 who went in for saving souls. They both have large churches with good-paying members. Some of them are Jessie Wiggs, Mozella Vance, and Helen Reid. Vivian Speight is also a faithful member of the fold.

Christine Keeling has just been sworn in as the first Negro policewoman of Roanoke, Virginia.

Louise Malone is home on the range trying to cook for her hubby whom she calls "Roland." She was sued for breach of promise by William Davis.

Annie Hairston is principal of "Carver High School." Her hobby is hiring and firing teachers. She has just fired Juanita Manning and Sarah Harris Hardly who were two of her classmates.

Zelma Jones and Mattie Wiggins have changed their careers from teachers to "postal workers." They are postal clerks in a post office in Baltimore, Md.

"Jack Fitch" is editor, reporter, manager and publisher of the "Plunkett Times." She became interested in such work during her senior year at Teachers College.

Doreva Koger, Gerneal Hamlin and Merenthia Landingham are models at Arbach's in New York. Willie Pamplin is a designer with the same firm.

Marjorie Marshall and Frances Nash are News Commentators over Station W. S. T. C.

Josephine Pretty has gone back to her former job with the Durham Life Insurance Company, Durham, North Carolina.

Carrie Lilly is the world's best story teller and has just made an appearance for the Grammar Grade Teachers at the Elizabeth City Teachers College.

All of the Brooks girls—Edna, Hervoline, Loretha, and Aldine are old maids and they are all teachers at the "Little Red Schoolhouse" in Roxboro, North Carolina.

The former Rosa Benson is happily married and living at home.

Emma Carlton is Mrs. Norman Perry and is living in Reidsville, N. C.

Mrs. Frances Hargraves is supervising a Kindergarten and has two of her own children as pupils. Her assistants are Lossie McNair and Lucinda Jones.

Margaret Forbes is secretary to Mrs. Hopie Tomlinson Arrington, who is a critic teacher at Winston-Salem Teachers College.

Johnnie Johnson, Ruby Hunt, and Alice Goode are dancing with Pearl Primus.

Larnetta Howell and Elizabeth Bailey are solving marriage problems in "Dogpatch." In their waiting room are Velma Fentress Reddick, Claudia Harper Vines, and Celestine Haywood Nicholson.

Nancey Bess is still going around in hopes of marrying Ottie Folk after ten years. She, Lelia Cureton and Alice Beverly are teachers in the same school. Alice is expecting Joe to return any day.

Corinta Boston and Marienne Hooper are flying from New York to California. Corinta is trying to keep up with Mack. Marienne is trying to keep up with Sidney Blackwell

Dorcinia Poole, Roberta Plowden and Mary Rice are civic leaders in their communities.

Maggie Scales holds first place as the best-dressed woman of America.

Louise Smith and Vivian Johnson are writing a book on "Woman's Work in the Church of Today."

Elizabeth Jones and Mary Smith are beauticians specializing in making the "old" look like "sweet sixteens."

Georgie Montgomery is head dietitian at our Alma Mater.

Mamie Gilliam, Maggie Harris, and Euphenia Hood are co-owners of a dry goods store in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

Romie Avery is cartoonist for the "Afro American." The editors of the same are Ruth Ricks and Louise Nicholson.

Leo Ballard now has a band, "The Queenie Gardner Thrillers." The drummers are none other than Margaret Edmonds and Hester Stephens. Eliza Clark plays the clarinet; Savannah King Hepler plays the piano and Vivian Hayes is his singing star. The band has a three months engagement at the Zanzibar in New York City which is owned by Kathryn Garnes and Lou Frances Eaten.

Josephine Miller and Robert Vinson have just announced their marriage. They were married in 1946 in Kogersville, S. C., by Justice of Peace Carl Hargraves. Carl has spent so much money on wives that he decided to become a Justice of Peace in order to get a refund.

Clarence Cooper is still walking around, without a girl friend, waiting for his loved one to get her divorce. In the meantime, he is calling on Carrie Mills and Eva Lennon.

Geraldine Gordon is the highest-paid instructor at the Cortez Peters Business College in Washington, D. C. Ernestine Whitted ranks next highest in pay.

John Mason and Clella Johnson are happily married and living in a sweet little country home. Love works in a mysterious way, doesn't it?

Marcellette McCorkle and Helen LeGrande have Ph. D. degrees in the field of English.

Edith Martin recently married Wilbert Todd. Margaret Adams was maid-of-honor at the wedding.

Ophelia Hairston and Lillie Ballentine are working in Cleveland, Ohio, as elevator operators in the Jacob Davis Hotel.

Julia Smith, Hazel Daniels, and Rachel Betts are instructors of piano at the Beloe School of Music.

Vera Davis was permitted to sing at Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C., with Flora Cowans as accompanist.

Charles Hargroves and his dancing partner, Essie Deck, are on Broadway as farmers.

Sylvia Bell, Esther Pearson, and Geraldine Martin are experimenting on a "grow-taller" product at the University of California.

Ruth Barringer, Mildred Butler, and Minnie Covington are director and owners of a summer camp for girls.

The B. S. degree received at "T. C." has helped many of my classmates to find their life's work. Vivian Davis is a seamstress in a large department store in Chicago; Frances Derr is dietitian in a hospital for children; Gloria Diggs and Ernestine Mason are proprietors of a tea room; Catherine Norcott is a dramatist, and as a side line she writes poetry, but drama is her preference.

Victoria Gwyn and Ethel Hardy are social workers.

Joy Mae Hairston, Violet Ford, and Getis Hardy are diligent housekeepers for their husbands who have just returned from World War III.

Sonya Mae Smith, Otelia Spaulding and Readie Stinson are great artists in Michigan. Many critics say that their works are worthy of being hung in the Louvre in Paris.

Compliments of a Friend

The paying of over $450,000.00 in dividends during the past two years is proof of efficiency in management. It has also caused an ever-increasing number of professional people to become policyholders of North Carolina Mutual.
